

LCMS FOR RENAL TRANSPLANTATION

Liquid chromatography mass spectrometry (LCMS) has become the reference standard for measuring immunosuppressant drug concentrations. The older immunoassays are still used in our pathology service and overestimate drug concentrations by up to 50%, thereby contributing to organ rejection. In analogy to a kidney nephron, we outline our knowledge to action plan.

